

SOME COMMON ACCOMMODATIONS REQUESTED BY AUTISTIC WORKERS

The employee may need a quiet work area or the ability to use headphones.

Fluorescent lighting can be painful. Lamps can be brought in or employee may need to use tinted glasses.

Autistic workers may need occasional movement breaks or fidget objects.

Some autistic people communicate best through text-based messaging or email.

Some employees will require extra time to learn new tasks.