

Who are we?

Innovative Supports for Autistic Workers (ISAW) is a training project designed specifically for Business Service Teams to promote understanding of the needs and unique abilities of workers on the autism spectrum. The project is funded by the Kentucky Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) and Kentucky Office of Autism, and is administered by the University of Kentucky's Human Development Institute.

There is no charge to you for our trainings, which can be delivered in person or by webinar at a time convenient to you.

ISAW innovative supports for autistic workers

For consultation any time:

Bev Harp
baharp2@uky.edu
859-338-1724

Brittany Granville
bgr263@uky.edu

Visit us at:
isaw.hdiuk.org

Follow us on Facebook:
@ISAWKY

ISAW

innovative supports for autistic workers
For Business Service Teams

Our trainings will help you

- Understand the strengths autistic workers bring to the workplace.
- Confidently assist managers in integrating employees on the autism spectrum into their businesses.
- Advise businesses on simple accommodation strategies to support maximum productivity.
- Communicate effectively with autistic workers and job seekers.

Can you answer these employer questions?

- How can I help someone on the spectrum to participate in meetings?
- What types of accommodations might be requested by autistic workers?
- How can I support my employee to cope with changes in the workplace?

Kentucky Career Center
Vocational Rehabilitation

Kentucky Office of Autism

 Human Development Institute

Do you know a job seeker on the autism spectrum who might benefit from additional support for the process?

ISAW provides the following services to prospective workers:

- Resume reviews
- Mock interviews
- Peer counseling by successfully employed autistic people
- Person centered planning for disclosure and accommodations
- Referrals to autism-friendly businesses

