

ISAW presents

Unicorns Speak

The Employment Experiences of Black Autistic Women and Nonbinary people

Join Innovative Supports for Autistic Workers as we speak to 4 autistic black women and non-binary people discussing their personal experiences existing as disabled, gender, and racial minorities in the workplace.

Panelists include (in alphabetical order):

Alexis "Stix" Brown

(She/Her)
Kentuckiana Visual Artist.

Jaz Brown

(They/Them)
An autistic disability rights activist, artist, and writer. Their work focuses on the intersection of disability, queerness, and race.

Toni Cheeks

(She/Her)
A licensed mental health therapist who works with neurodivergent females and nonbinary individuals.

Shalese Heard

(She/Her)
An online influencer teaching Autistic people to travel the world, self advocate and build financial independence.

November 11, 2024 • 11 am

Register at

<https://tinyurl.com/ISAWUNI>

